Documentation

To claim preferential tariff treatment under an FTA, importing customs usually requires documentary evidence to prove origin. Requirements can vary between FTAs. Select your preferred FTA below for more information:

Indonesia-Australia Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (IACEPA) ^

To claim preferential treatment under IACEPA, Australian exporters will need to obtain a Certificate of Origin \(COO\) from one of the following authorised bodies. Charges will apply and may vary depending on authorised body.

- Australian Industry Group \(AiG\)
- International Export Certification Services \(IECS\)
- Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry \(ACCI\)

Further information on COOs is available at <https://www.dfat.gov.au/sites/default/files/iacepa-chapter-4-rules-of-origin.pdf>

Self Certification

IA-CEPA provides the option for Parties to implement the use of a Declaration of Origin \(DOO\) by registered or certified exporters as documentary evidence of origin. Further details on DOOs will be provided once implementation arrangements have been finalised.
